FRANK EDWARD JOHNSON

HEARS OF TRIPOLI AFFAIRS. Italy Having Difficult Time to Hold the Narrow Zone-Uprising of the Sen nousi Told in a Letter.

The Washington, D. C., Evening Star Friday said: Frank Edward Johnson, artist, explorer archelogist and ethnologist, who is in this city after a stay of several years in north Africa, yester-day received letters from friends in Tripoli containing interesting news from the scene of military operations in that country. These letters, which were sent out in such a manner as to scape the rigid consorship which has been established by the Italian mili-ary authorities, asserted that the trailan army is making absolutely no headway against the Arabs and Tripolitans and that it is only with the greatest difficulty that the Italians retain possession of the narrow zone surrounding Tripoli, which was seized by them at the outbreak of actual

Mr. Johnson's correspondents write that the Italians are losing thousands of horses, the losses hopelessly orippling the cavalry arm of the army of occupation, and putting the artillery out of commission.

The borses, which were brought from Italy, refuse to drink the brack-ish alkaline water—which is the only water to be obtained for drinking pur poses about Tripoli or the desert-and in consequence of going waterless under the desert sun, the animals have died literally by thousands. The Ital-ians, the letters state, have commanleered all the damels within reach until, a few days before these letters were mailed, the government of Tu-carry on the agricultural and other work of the country.

Natives Ignore Italian Appeal. The letters refer to the use of aeroplanes by the Italian army in scout-ing and observation work above the Arab and Tripolitan forces encamped in the desert cases and in the very outskirts of Tripoli itself. These aeroplanes, which at first terrified the tribesmen, have become so common that they receive little attention from the Arabs. Handbills, printed on thin paper, are carried by the aviators and are dropped in great numbers in the camps of the Arab forces. A translation of one of these handbills, originally printed in Arabic, reads:

"To the Arabe of Tripolitania:
"What are you waiting for, in order to come to us? Do you not feel the necessity of praying in your mosques and of living quietly with your families, of leating your your walks." llies; of letting your animals or cattle graze in peace, and of taking up com-merce again in all security?
